Truman's Latest Statement On Dismissal of MacArthur Stirs Critics and the General

Washington, May 18—(AP)—President Truman's statement he had considered dismissing Gen. Douglas MacArthur off and on for a year "astonished" the deposed general and stirred critics of the administration to new wrath today.

Senator Hickenlooper, Iowa Republican dissenter on official Far East policy charged Mr. Truman had "deceived the people" with previous declaration of support for MacArthur.

MacArthur, in a statement issued in New York, said his astonishment at Mr. Truman's remarks bordered on incredulity. He added: "It is difficult to reconcile this with my appointment by him as commander-in-chief of the United Nations command" in Korea. That was last June.

Budget-Cutters Are Busy Paring Down Appropriation Bill

Washington, May 18—(AP)—House budget-cutters had reached the $1,000,000,000 mark today in their drive to cut as much as ten times that amount from President Truman's 1952 fiscal year budget.

At the rate they are going, they will fall far short of their maximum goal. The house already has considered budget estimates of approximately $25,500,000,000. Mr. Truman asked $94,500,000,000 for the year starting July 1.

There now is little likelihood of substantial reductions in the military appropriation bill, which embodies about $60,000,000,000 of the total budget.

But Republicans leading the economy drive hope to make deep slashes in some foreign-aid spending programs. These programs may be lumped together in a single bill totalling about $11,000,000,000.

The fifth of the regular departmental money bills passed the house yesterday. It finances the agriculture department. None of the five has cleared the senate.

Removal of Wage-Price Controls Is Demanded by NAM

Washington, May 18—(AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) today demanded removal of all wage-price controls. It accused President Truman of seeking dictatorial home-front mobilization powers.

A CIO official called for "a stricter price control law."

A former "fair deal" senator, now representing a group of automobile sales finance companies, charged that the administration of consumer credit controls is "unfair and unsound."

Meat industry spokesmen continued to hammer away at their contention that the government beef price rollback plan will result in diminishing supplies and rationing.

The new wage stabilization board was reported ready to punch some holes in the pay-controls dike.

And the leaders of 57 major civilian industries were called to meet today to discuss with the National Production Authority (NPA) government plans to cut their metal supplies by 30 to 35 per cent below pre-Korea levels. The proposed cuts were announced only yesterday.

The announcement was made only a few hours after President Truman appeared anew for stronger controls and defense production programs.

NAM President William H. Ruffin said in a statement prepared for the senate banking committee that the broader economic powers Mr. Truman wants could lead to destruction of the nation's economic system and would amount to "perhaps the longest single step toward complete government control ever proposed to the American people."

Congress, the association declared, should let authority to curb prices and wages lapse June 30, when the present law expires.

GAS COMPANY PLANS TO EXTEND PIPELINE

Washington, May 18—(AP)—The power commission intends to rule directly, without an intermediate decision by an examiner, on the application of manufacturers Light and Heat Company of Pittsburgh for authority to build 172 miles of pipe line in Pennsylvania.

That course, announced yesterday, was asked by the company in order to hasten a final decision on the $9,813,000 project.

The line would extend from producing fields in Clinton county to a connection with the company's system in Washington county.

Floods Threatening In Midwest States

By The Associated Press
Flood waters, fed by rampaging rivers and creeks, threatened a 30-block section of Kansas' largest city and harassed new areas in Oklahoma and Texas today.

The high waters have caused at least four deaths, isolated many rural homes and cut transportation and communications.

At Wichita, Kas., a city of 200,000, national guardsmen and hundreds of volunteers sought to control the little Arkansas river.

The slowly rising waters threatened to flood a 30-block area of the city.

A flood warning was issued last night, indicating a full scale overflow was expected today. Those in danger of being surrounded by water were advised to take what they could and get to higher ground.

Imaginative 14-Year-Old Boy Dies in Hangman's Noose Sprung by a Candle

Neptune, N. J., May 18—(AP)—An imaginative 14-year-old boy died in his own play death trap—a hangman's noose sprung by a lighted candle.

Neighbors found the body of George Sherman yesterday dangling from a length of clothesline in his cellar. He had been left alone in his Shark River home while his family went visiting.

Still strapped to his wrist was the open knife he apparently meant to use to cut himself down after the trap was sprung.

Police theorized the jerking rope strangled George before he could wrench the knife free. The death was ruled an accident.

Magnetic Storm May Cause Interference

Washington, May 18—(AP)—A severe magnetic storm, the result of a large sunspot, may affect radio communications during the next two or three days.

The Bureau of Standards has cautioned the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Army and Navy, commercial radio stations and other agencies. The CAA in turn passed on the warning to airplane pilots.

The Bureau of Standards said the sunspot is large enough to be seen with the naked eye, but officials cautioned against looking at the sun without some such protection as smoked glass.

11 ARE DEAD, 60 INJURED IN P. R. R. WRECK

Bryn Mawr, May 18—(AP)—Major G. A. McLaughlin, lower Merion township police superintendent, said 11 persons are known to have been killed in the crash of two famed Pennsylvania Railroad trains here today.

Authoritative reports said at least 60 others were injured, eight of them seriously.

The Philadelphia Express was coming from Pittsburgh, the Red Arrow from Detroit to New York.

Maj. G. A. McLaughlin, lower Merion Township police superintendent, who said earlier three bodies had been removed, said none of the dead were identified immediately.

Bryn Mawr Hospital reported it had received at least 50 injured. The extent of their injuries had not been determined.

A spokesman for the PRR said the crash occurred at 6:38 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, at a peak period of travel on one of the most heavily traveled rail lines in the east.

The spokesman said Train No. 68, the Red Arrow, eastbound from Detroit to New York, smashed into the rear of Train No. 36, the Philadelphia night express bound from Pittsburgh.

The Philadelphia Express had stopped, possibly for a checkup on equipment.

The accident happened about five miles west of the PRR station in Bryn Mawr, a quiet residential suburb many of whose mansions border the railroad lines.

Eye witnesses said the engine of the Red Arrow telescoped the rear car of the Philadelphia Express and overturned the car ahead.

The locomotive itself thrust straight into the air, then collapsed on its side, a twisted heap of metal.

A Red Cross disaster detail, with a blood supply, was dispatched to the wreck, and the Salvation Army sent two mobile canteens supplied with blankets, food and drink.

The impact threw passengers to the floor all through both trains.

The engine of the Red Arrow tumbled onto its side. Behind the locomotive were two unoccupied cars—a train crew dormitory and a baggage car, both of which were derailed.

Had these two cars been occupied, it was speculated, the loss of life likely would have been greater.

The four-track PRR main line in this area, which also pours tens of thousands of suburban dwellers into Philadelphia commerce and industry daily, is elaborately guarded with safety devices.

Among them is an automatic block signal system which directs engineers to slow or stop when operating too close to trains on the same tracks.

Rescue efforts were made somewhat more difficult by the nature of the terrain. The express had stopped on a curve. From the right of way the ground slopes sharply and is overgrown with underbrush.

Too, there was some discomfort because of chilly weather, following a several days heat wave.

For a time fire threatened. Eye witnesses saw an electric flash, then flames rising from the telescoped coach. The PRR uses electric engines, powered from overhead wires, in this area. The fire was quenched soon after the crash was turned off.

Today's wreck was the second in the history of the New York-Detroit Flyer. On Feb. 12, 1947, the express went off the tracks on a lonely mountain curve near Altoona, Pa., and plunged into a gully killing 24 and injuring 740. A coroner's jury wound the railroad blameless.

MANY KOREAN VETS ARE BEING ROTATED

San Francisco, May 18—(AP)—Another 352 marines are scheduled to arrive Monday on rotation from Korea aboard the navy transport President Jackson.

They will bring to 4,725 the number of marines rotated since the program began in March.

The army announced in Washington yesterday that four ships carrying more than 6,300 army veterans of the Korean war have left Far East ports. The soldiers are also coming home under a rotation program.

More Work Than Ever In Store for State Lawmakers

Harrisburg, May 18—(AP)—An embroiled legislature today has more work to do than at any time in its 20 weeks of sessions.

Members of house and senate face a steadily rising hill of bills, several of which are hotly disputed both by inter-party and intra-party factions.

To date the governor has signed 74 of 106 bills sent to him from the house and senate chambers. He has vetoed two.

The legislature has before it about 2300 bills and resolutions. The 106 measures represent the productivity to date. But if past sessions are any criteria both houses will step up the measure-passing process as they head down the home stretch to adjournment.

A top Republican leader said this week that adjournment by mid-June has been written off by Gov. Fine's administration.

His prediction was that the senate would continue in session for quite some time while the house might recess in six or seven weeks until the senate completes its work.

The keystone of the whole legislative situation is the future of the governor's proposed one-half of one per cent income tax levy and budget.

The income tax measure has won house approval after a bitter struggle but was shunted back to the Senate Finance committee after a GOP senate caucus failed to provide enough votes to insure passage.

Standing in the way of clearing the bill for senate floor action are 11 rebelling GOP senators who contend the governor does not need the levy to balance his $2,200,000,000 budget. The governor says the tax, estimated to raise $119,000,000 is necessary to help carry out his program.

United Nations Troops Are Forced Out of Their Last Foothold in Northern Korea

Tokyo, May 18—(AP)—Communist troop masses attacking with utter disregard of lives today pushed back Allied lines across most of the Korean warfront.

The Reds had gained as much as 20 miles in three days and forced United Nations troops out of their last foothold in North Korea.

The Allied pullback extended from the east coast for more than 50 miles across the central front.

In the west, Red spearheads thrust within 10 miles of Seoul. They were fighting on both the eastern and northern approaches to the old South Korean capital.

One U. S. division was reported "in great trouble" on the central front. A smaller American unit was overrun and positions of another were breached.

Two South Korean units were badly mauled.

Across the flaming warfront the Communists pressed forward in human sea waves despite massed Allied artillery fire and searing air attacks.

This was the Chinese Reds' fifth offensive since they entered the war late in November. And it appeared to be shaping up as their mightiest drive—one aimed, Red prisoners said, to throw the Allies out of Korea by the June 25 first anniversary of the Communist invasion.

Red commanders had a pool of 1,141,000 available troops in Korea and Manchuria, the U. N. command said. And they were reckless in the way they spent them.

The great Red assault is doomed to failure, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet confidently told his Allied ground forces.

U. N. massed artillery fired at record speed to cut attacking waves to pieces. Allied airmen complained Friday afternoon that they couldn't find many Red targets.

Field dispatches said the bugle blowing, horn tooting Chinese fell by the thousands under geysering artillery explosions.

Front line dispatches gave this picture Friday night, looking across the front from west to east:

American forces pulled back from Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul. Red screening forces pushed to within 10 miles of the old South Korean capital.

An armored U. N. patrol was stopped 10 miles east of Seoul by a Red mine field covered by automatic weapons fire. A series of Red attacks failed to break U. N. lines in the west-central front Friday. South Koreans patched up the only dent. But mauling Chinese, camouflaged by tree branches, hid in the woods ready to renew their assaults.

Heavy fighting raged across the central front. The Allied line pulled back before waves of attacking Chinese.

Complete Embargo On Shipments to Red China Debated

New York, May 18—(AP)—The United Nations general assembly meets in a special session at Flushing Meadows today to impose a worldwide war material embargo on Red China.

Overwhelming approval was assured, but it was equally certain that the Soviet bloc countries, principal suppliers of aid to Red China, would disobey the ban.

The assembly's 60-nation political committee voted 45-0 late yesterday to recommend the embargo as the next step against Red China and North Korea, both already branded as aggressors in Korea by the assembly.

Russia and the four other members of the Soviet bloc did not participate in the committee debate or the voting. They argued assembly action on an embargo is illegal, insisting that the question had to be handled by the Security Council—where Russia has a veto and presumably would use it.

Nine countries abstained—Burmah, India, Indonesia, Afghanistan, Burma, Egypt, Pakistan, Sweden and Syria.

Sweden's Sven Grafstrom, who is a member of the U. N. good offices committee which Red China has ignored from the first, explained that his country has not exported nor does it intend to export any war material to Red China.

Egypt and India said the same thing. Syria said it would obey the embargo after it is voted.

OVERLOADED TRUCKS

Pittsburgh, May 18—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Police Department's traffic division is going to conduct its own campaign against overloaded trucks. Mayor David L. Lawrence said the traffic department will begin around-the-clock checks Monday.

Plans Rapidly Rounding Into Shape For Community Fourth of July Celebration

The committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, held a meeting last evening at the American Legion Home, when sub-committee chairmen submitted reports on the various projects indicating that everything is progressing in satisfactory manner.

It was reported that newly-paved Parker street is under consideration as a place to hold the Kid's Koaster Classic on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, June 30th. The committee announced that a large list of valuable prizes has been secured to be distributed to winners, and that information is being secured regarding shirts and helmets. The place, time and other details will be adopted and announced later.

Investigation is still under way concerning the possibilities of staging a professional wrestling exhibition program, and a decision will be reached within another week or two.

It was reported there is a possibility that the champion Tarantula Eagles drum and bugle corps may be in Warren for the parade and competition on the Fourth.

John Newmaker and Harry Spiedel, in charge of floats, announced the coupon will be started in the Times-Mirror within a few days, and it was also stated that the fireworks are expected to arrive in Warren within a week.

It was announced that a meeting for the special committee in charge will be held in a few days to discuss plans for the reception of Admiral Robert Dennison, presidential aide, who has been invited to be guest of honor for the dedication of the boulder at War Memorial Field as part of the celebration.

Men Who Have Served Y.M.C.A. Nearly Fifty Years Are Honored at Banquet

Reminding his listeners "a man is only as old as he is in heart" and admonishing them not "to be misled by the 'young' in Young Men's Christian Association", Attorney Harold Hampson paid deserved tribute at last night's YMCA birthday banquet to several individuals who have served the association for nearly 50 of its 65 active years.

Speaking in behalf of the "Y" board of directors, he recognized their varying periods of service and remarked: "It is with genuine and sincere affection we recall what these old timers have done". In turn, he presented for a bow A. F. Kottcamp, who was general secretary from 1909 to 1933, with his wife, Virgie; Dr. O. S. Brown, director over 40 years; Attorney E. H. Beahm, H. P. Stone, and Mrs. Stone, A. E. Johnson, treasurer for 33 years. Two others who have given more than 40 years of service but were unable to be present were H. G. Eaton and C. J. Crary.

Continuing as spokesman for the board, wholehearted tribute was paid to the large group of volunteer workers who have aided in carrying on the "Y" program during the year. As each name was called, those present stood to be recognized and, later, were given certificates and YMCA pins by Miss Bauer. In this group were the following:

Anthony Scialise, William Tanner and John O. Tanner, advisors of Lacy Gray-Y Club; Kendall Morrison, advisor of East Street Gray-Y Club and camp staff; W. Beyer Africa and David Levine, boys' department supervisors; Gordon Hanks, advisor South Street Gray-Y Club; Allen Anderson, Junior Hi-Y advisor and camp counselor; Roger Hendrickson, advisor Johnson Gray-Y Club; Paul Mutzbaugh, craft and boys' department instructor; Howard M. Lemmon, McClintock Gray-Y Club advisor; John Kylander, boys' department

FISHERMAN REELS IN THRASHING WOMAN

Pittsburgh, May 18—(AP)—Thomas Bailey, a 65-year-old fisherman, made one of the most accurate casts of his life yesterday—reeling in a woman on his 18-pound test nylon line.

Police Chief Pat Moran of Penn township said Mrs. Evelyn Shepard Sekula, 31, of DuBois, waded into the Allegheny river shortly after her husband reported her missing.

Bailey saw the woman thrashing in the water. He calmly cast his line at her. She grabbed hold of the line and Bailey reeled her in where fellow fishermen completed the rescue. She is in good condition.

Capacity Audience Thoroughly Enjoys High School A Cappella Choir Concert

Another capacity house greeted the Warren High School A Cappella Choir as the group filed into Beatty gym last evening to present its spring concert under its talented director, Carroll A. Fowler.

It seems that these choir concerts become increasingly better, until one wonders when the peak may be reached. There was very little to be criticized in last night's performance. Lack of power for big passages can be attributed directly to the very poor acoustics of the only place in which school musical organizations have to present such affairs, and lighting and staging problems arise at the same source.

But the overall picture was one of musical enjoyment which might well be the envy of many older and more experienced choirs.

Between choral groups, solos were sung by Coral Tome, contralto, and James Cooney, tenor, with Stavroula Fanos and Carol Amacher playing the accompaniments.

Following the first intermission, Wilson's arrangement of "Scrambled Opera", first presented at the National Music Week concert on Monday, May 11, was given again, much to the enjoyment of the audience. One has to hear this performance to believe it. It was

Notice Served On Sec. of Commerce Threatens Prison

Washington, May 18—(AP)—The U. S. court of appeals today served notice on Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and nine others that they will be sent to jail for contempt unless they comply with its orders in litigation over control of American President Lines, Ltd.

The court said it would enter an order giving Sawyer and the others five days in which to comply with its decree.

Sawyer and eight other government officials and attorneys earlier had been cited by the court on contempt charges for failure to deliver "effective possession" of 92 per cent of the voting stock of American President Lines to R. Stanley Dollar and his associates.

The tenth person involved in the proceedings is George L. Killion, president of the big steamship company. Killion is former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

In addition to Sawyer, top-ranking government officials involved include Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, Deputy Attorney General Peyton Ford and Maj. Gen. Philip Fleming, formerly undersecretary of commerce for transportation.

In its decision today, the court of appeals said the Dollar interests "have a valid and complete judgment" against those persons who were in possession of the disputed shares.

In 1945 the Dollars sued to get the stock back.

INQUEST ORDERED

Pittsburgh, May 18—(AP)—A coroner's inquest has been ordered in the death of Mary Clapp, 39-year-old chemist at Mellon Institute. Miss Clapp, a native of Philadelphia, was found dead yesterday in her apartment. Since joining the Institute in 1935, she aided in the search for drugs to combat pneumonia.

Philadelphia Has Waterfront Blaze

Philadelphia, May 18—(AP)—A raging waterfront fire swept through a pier and a cargo ship on the Delaware river today.

Police said they believed one crewman was trapped aboard the burning cargo ship, the Fineland Leith, about 4,000 gross tons. At least a dozen other crewmen jumped into the water as the burning vessel parted its mooring lines and drifted toward an adjoining pier. Some were taken to nearby hospitals.

There was no immediate information whether anyone had been caught by the fast-spreading fire on the 800-foot long pier 46 south which juts 800 feet into the river in this busy ocean shipping port.

A general alarm summoned all downtown firefighting equipment and three fireboats to the scene as the smoldering Fineland Leith drifted toward Pier 46 south.

Pier 46 South is operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad, and used by Southern Steamship Company and the Puerto Rico

Resident of East Side Is Victim of A Traffic Accident

Albert Hornstrom, 9 Marrer street, was admitted at Warren General Hospital where he was taken by ambulance about 6:30 p. m. yesterday after he was struck by a car operated by Robert Anderson, 17, of Sheffield, at Pennsylvania avenue and Russell street. Anderson was arrested by city police on a charge of reckless driving.

According to the accident report, Hornstrom was walking on Pennsylvania avenue and had almost gotten across the Russell street intersection when Anderson, driving east on Pennsylvania avenue, made a left turn into Russell street, striking Hornstrom. Hornstrom's condition was given as good at the hospital this morning. He is suffering from abrasions and contusions of the chin and forehead, multiple brush burns and shock. Although he has no apparent fractures, x-rays are being taken today.

Police also report a two car accident at Pennsylvania and Cedar shortly before noon yesterday. Cars involved were operated by Robert Buchanan, 319 Jackson avenue, and Allen J. Rittman, of Cleveland, O. No one was injured and damage was estimated at $225, about evenly divided.

Officers said that Rittman was driving west on Pennsylvania when Buchanan pulled out from the curb in front of him.

DISABLED VETERANS MAKE POPPIES

In nearly every state, during the past several months, disabled veterans have been busily engaged in making Buddy Poppies that will be sold throughout the county prior to Memorial Day. In this city, Commander Akers of V. F. W. Post 631 announced that the sale of Buddy Poppies will take place today and tomorrow.

According to Commander Akers, the Buddy Poppy carries a copyright label on which are printed the words "Made by disabled veterans." The public is warned to avoid purchase of poppies that will not be identified with the government registered trademark of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ever since 1922, when the V. F. W. conducted the first nationwide sale of Buddy Poppies, the Veterans Administration has permitted disabled veterans under government care to assemble the materials that are needed to create the official V. F. W. Buddy Poppy.

Veterans Administration officials have always regarded the making of Buddy Poppies by disabled veterans as a valuable form of occupational therapy treatment. The experience is regarded as a morale booster for convalescent patients, who benefit from the psychological reaction of proving useful to themselves and to the cause which the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy represents.

Aside from the fact that the disabled veterans are paid by the V. F. W. for their labors, the opportunity to earn the wages they are paid definitely stimulates their recovery, according to VA rehabilitation experts.

CHURCHES WELCOME NEWCOMERS

When Mr. and Mrs. Milton M. Schneidman and their son Laurence, 6, arrived in Saginaw, Mich., from Arlington, Va., their furniture was hardly in place before the Rev. Howard B. Spann, pastor of the Community Christian Reformed Church, rang the Schneidman's doorbell. He welcomed them to Saginaw on behalf of the city's 77 Protestant, Orthodox and Jewish houses of worship, says Pathfinder news magazine.

Spann gave the newcomers a church directory, got in return a card stating their religious preference. He sent the card to Rabbi Harry A. Cohen of Saginaw's Temple B'nai Israel, who took over from there. The call on the Schneidmans was part of a new and unique inter-faith visitation program sponsored by the Saginaw Ministerial Association. Twenty-four denominations and two local synagogues are co-operating.

ULTERIOR MOTIVE

When the House Agriculture Committee considered having a beef carcass carved up in the committee room because members said they wanted to see how a meat cutter would slice it up and tag various cuts to meet OPS price rules, the alleged reason sounded plausible.

We suspect that the truth is, however, that most of them just wanted to get a look at a side of beef. That's a pretty rare experience these days.

Warren's observance of Army Day tomorrow, and I Am An American Day, always the third Sunday in May, will be confined mostly to public display of the Stars and Stripes, although in many communities parades and demonstrations have been planned.

Officials of the Warren County Chapter of the American Red Cross, in publishing the annual financial statement, offer a suggestion that doubtless could be followed with much benefit to all concerned by other organizations that depend upon public contributions for existence.

Be prepared to buy a Buddy Poppy --- on sale tonight and tomorrow --- sponsored by Veterans of Warren Post No. 631, in cooperation with the auxiliary.

All concerned are to be commended for the interesting and entertaining program presented last evening in commemoration of the anniversary of the Warren Young Men's Christian Association.

A musical treat is promised Sunday afternoon and evening when the Spring Choir Festival of Methodist churches in the district will be presented at Grace Methodist church, and don't forget the public is invited.

Here And There

Fifty years ago this week Youngsville had one of its most serious and costly fires, a conflagration that is well remembered by older residents, who will doubtless read with interest the following from the Evening Times:

The store building of F. D. Kinnear and Co., was destroyed by fire early this morning. The structure was completely burned and the Fairmont House, directly across the street was damaged by fire and water.

Just how the blaze originated is a mystery. Mrs. Frank Kinnear, whose husband was associated with his father in the ownership of the business, was awakened by a crackling noise. She aroused Mr. Kinnear but flames had broken out on the eastern side of the building before he got across the street, and effected an entrance. He barely had time to get the books and the money from the safe before the fire drove him out.

By this time the bucket brigade was on the scene and had commenced active operations. No effort was made to suppress the fire there but attention was directed to the Fairmont House, where, after a great amount of labor the brigade was enabled to confine the fire to the third story and the eastern side of the building.

In the meantime the Warren department had been called upon for aid, and had prepared to make the trip to Youngsville. Their services were not needed, however, and a message was sent to that effect.

The work of the bucket brigade called forth the most hearty praise from the citizens of this place and their efficient work was appreciated.

The Kinnear building was occupied on the ground floor by the general store of F. D. Kinnear Co. Stock to the amount of $15,000 was totally destroyed. The second floor was known as Kinnear's Opera House, and was fitted out for a theater and dance hall.

The Kinnear loss will amount to about $20,000, insured for $8,000 with J. H. Mitchell and Co., of Warren.

The Fairmont House is the property of L. E. Ricker. His loss will amount to about $2,000, covered by insurance placed with J. H. Sandstrom, of Warren.

Mr. Kinnear was in Titusville, arriving home this morning, and he was unable to state at that time whether or not another building would be constructed on the site of the former structure.

This 'N' That: Kane High school has joined the growing list of area schools which have lacked up football admission prices for the coming season, announcing that adult admission prices have been hiked to 75¢-1.00, a figure that is still below that of many other schools in the area.

Alois Adamczyk, Polish refugee and former president of the Transport Workers Union in Poland, who spoke at the Lions' Club meeting here Tuesday, is scheduled to deliver a talk at the Third Ward school in Bradford Monday under the auspices of the Trades Assembly of that city. . . . The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector, will present a class of thirty to Bishop Harold M. Sawyer, for confirmation at the eleven o'clock service at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church. . . . It seems to be quite generally agreed that Wednesday was better than for the past 261 days, or since August 28, 1950. . . . The Rev. Cyril J. Kronz, 52, pastor of St. Agnes parish at Morrisdale, Clearfield county, has been appointed pastor of St. Elizabeth's church at Corry, replacing the late Rev. Carl Heidt. . . . Titusville police are investigating complaints of school boys setting off firecrackers on Main street during the noon hour the past week, reminding that such celebrating is against a city ordinance and state law. . . . Another program of exciting stock car races scheduled at the Dicky Ben speedway Sunday. . . . The Biller Bros. circus, appearing here next Wednesday at the Brewery lot, come from Meadville where it appears Tuesday, and goes from here to Bradford for a Thursday showing.

WHERE Senator Morse found they differed were on three main points: use 35,000 Nationalist China troops in Korea; blockade the China coast; bomb Manchuria.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, another good cross-examiner, intervened in Morse's questioning at one point to give the language of the Soviet Russian-Chinese Communist pact of 1950 as having an important bearing on the subject.

These treaties provide that if either country is attacked "by Japan or any other state which should unite with Japan. . . the other High Contracting Party will immediately render military assistance with all the means at its disposal."

Lawyers might argue for weeks without reaching a conclusion on whether an attack by U. S. planes on Manchurian rail lines would be considered an attack by a country "united with Japan." Senator Morse tried to pin General MacArthur down on this point. The General said he didn't think such an act would bring Russia into the war.

SENATOR MORSE then said: "Would not the Soviet Union probably consider an attack on this line a threat to its basic interests in the Far East and therefore increase the danger of war with Red China?" General MacArthur said his opinion was in the negative.

Senator Morse then pointed out that Vladivostok and Russian-controlled Port Arthur were both dependent on these Manchurian rail lines.

"Would a blockade of Port Arthur in your opinion increase the danger of open hostilities with Russia?" the Senator asked later. "It would certainly cut off the supply lines from Russia to China," General MacArthur replied. Then he added, "I do not believe the small incident involved would materially affect in any way the great decisions that would be involved in bringing the Soviet into a global war."

Now this is a tremendously important statement. It shows how far General MacArthur and his supporters are ready to go--blockading Port Arthur and bombing the Manchurian railroads--at the risk of starting World War III. What's more, General MacArthur apparently believes the United States is able to win that war now.

Senator Morse believes the U. S. might well lose such a war now.

TIPS ON TUNING

What does a woman think about in anticipation of vacation time? Flattering bathing togs, of course. What does a man think about then too? He thinks of a lovely girl like June Connors, actress of Mutual's Sunday "Martin Kane, Private Eye" head-acts garbed in—well, flattering bathing togs. Now you can look.

Here's Where the Pounds Pay Off

FIRST thing that people notice when they take over a Buick is the sure-footed stance this fine automobile has on the road.

You head into a curve and hold firm and true. You travel a turnpike without sway or wander.

While your wheels may dance when you hit a stretch of washboard gravel—your car holds its level course.

A lot of things account for this beautifully poised performance, but it starts with stalwart structure and ample weight—plenty of pounds where pounds are needed.

Please don't get us wrong. This isn't "deadweight." Though a Buick like the one pictured here tips the scales at more than two tons, it's as nimble as an antelope at play.

It has a generous hoodful of valve-in-head Fireball power—packing a powerful punch of velvet velocity.

It comes with the smooth magic of Dynaflo Drive*—a lightness of steering that's gently responsive to a lady's hand—a front-end geometry that's pure genius—the finest brakes ever put on a Buick.

And every wheel rides on shock-eating coil springs that are carefree and trouble-free for the life of your car.

You'll also find—by a few moments of simple arithmetic—that the pounds in this bounteous beauty pay off in another way. On a cents-per-pound basis, it will cost less to buy than anything else near its weight and power and size.

Why not visit us real soon—like the first thing tomorrow—and let us show you why you and your budget will both be happy with this Buick?

game will be heard on the FM station. Warm-Up Time with Tucker is heard before each ball game fifteen minutes before broadcast time of the game.

This show "On the Record" or some name similar to it, should be rather interesting listening each evening, Monday through Saturday except for Thursday. Thursday between 7:00 and 8:00 is adventure night on WNAE, with "Bold Venture" and "Boston Blackie," but the other nights are record nights. Mr. and Mrs. T as in Tranter were doing a request disc show on Friday afternoons at one time. Now Tranter and Schneck are putting two and two together and getting a disc jockey show out of it. This "Double Disc Jockey" show features a nice variety of music in the popular line as well as a few oldies that are dug out from way deep in the record files. Of course, with two D. J.'s, there is bound to be a bit of conversation to go with the discs. This can consist of anything from a little discussion of the record to be played to why some things appear on grocery lists often than others. The idea of two disc jockeys on the same program is not new to radio but it is the first time that it has been tried in Warren. The talk part of the program is recorded in the afternoon while the baseball games take care of the program on the air and then one of the junior engineers takes over in the evening with the tape recorder and a pile of records to actually put the show on the air. In this way, the program is sure to have to very and listeners at least—you guessed it—Schneck and Tranter!

Expectations are that tomorrow's Roving Mike show will come from the Women's Club at the Art Talent Recognition Show and an effort will be made to have three times photographic winner Ray Rapp on the Camera Club of the Air at 6:45.

There is a mighty pleasant half hour of music to be heard on WNAE between 12:00 noon and 12:30 on Sunday. The first quarter features the Lady Hamilton Dream Girl while the second portion of the half hour is in charge of the wait king—Wayne King. Speaking of musical shows, and back-tracking a bit, on Friday evening, between 7:30 and 8:00, the last half of "On the Record," guest disc jockey Wayne Howell takes over for the show, "The Stars Review The Hits." Wayne always has some top personality on his show to talk about the new records and play the same. It's a mighty listenable half hour and always features some well known celebrity. Better tune in this evening. . . or just stay tuned in. . . for the Stars Review The Hits.

Quaintance Class Holds Delightful Party and Program

One of the prettiest parties of their entire season was that held last evening in First Baptist church by members of the Quaintance Class.

Guests were seated at small tables placed throughout the gymnasium, which had been decorated for the occasion with a profusion of spring flowers. On a stage arranged to represent a garden scene, the following program was given:

Medley of spring songs—While Hearts Are Singing, April Showers, Silver Moon, and It's a Lovely Day Tomorrow—Mrs. Everett Borg, accompanied by Linnea Scott; vocal duets—It Is No Secret, and The Garden of My Heart—Kay and Mary Lou Hibner, accompanied by Harriet Lind; Swedish dance song—Brother Will, Brother John—Mrs. Bork.

At the conclusion of the musical part of the program, Mrs. Earl Wright, chairman for the evening, introduced Mary Bennett, Forestville, N. Y., who gave a stirring talk on current affairs.

Following the program, young girls of the church served dainty cookies, sandwiches and coffee to the guests at their tables.

Thanks were expressed to women of the class and to James Blomquist for the attractive floral and furniture arrangements.

BEREAN CLASS

Berean Class members of First Baptist church will be entertained at the home of Violet Peterson, 106 Frank street, at eight o'clock this evening.

When automobiles travel at speeds in excess of 40 miles an hour, more power is required to overcome air resistance than road resistance.

Talent Show At Woman's Club To Continue Saturday

A steady stream of callers throughout yesterday afternoon and last evening was most encouraging to the Woman's Club committee sponsoring the annual Talent Recognition Show in the clubhouse.

There is no admission charge for the exhibit and the public is cordially invited until nine o'clock this evening and from two until five o'clock on Saturday.

Two pieces which have been attracting a great deal of attention and not previously mentioned in stories about the show are the hand painted Swedish chest done by Marie Hamilton and Maritza Morgan's sculptured piece.

Exhibitors are reminded to pick up their entries at the club between five and eight o'clock Saturday evening and those who have found it impossible to get to the three-day show are advised the winners will be hung in the Warren Public Library gallery over the weekend. They may be seen there next week, starting Tuesday.

Mrs. Wallace Cowden, Woman's Club president, reminds that the next big event on the club's summer calendar will be the Antique Show on June 7, 8, and 9.

FATHER BAUER IS ALTAR SOCIETY GUEST

About 60 members of St. Joseph's Altar Society enjoyed a bountiful twelve dinner at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the club rooms. Father Alfred Bauer, who recently celebrated a birthday anniversary, was honored guest and was presented a gift from the members. Also a guest for the affair was Father Arthur Leon, assistant pastor. Tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and place cards were individual cakes with a lighted candle.

A short business session followed and it was voted to hold no further meetings until September. For the social hour, cards were enjoyed and prizes awarded the winners. Miss Tessie Fino pleased with three beautiful vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Donald Edinger. Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Edward Martin and her committee for the very pleasurable party.

Lone Single Woman Can Mix If She Follows Wives' Rules

IT isn't always easy to be the one unmarried woman in a group of married couples. But Lucy, who came to visit a married college classmate for a week and stayed a month, managed to have a wonderful time. In fact, she had all the wives in her friend's crowd knocking themselves out to secure up eligible bachelors for her to meet.

Why did Lucy fit in so easily with a married crowd, when so many unmarried women find it a difficult thing to do?

For one thing, she always managed to pay just a little more attention to the wives than to their husbands—a necessary precaution for any lone woman who finds herself in a crowd of married couples.

For another, she didn't high-bat the interests of the married women even though they weren't her own interests. She listened to them and their problems, and asked enough questions to make them feel like experts.

She did more listening than talking, too! And this is always pleasing if the person is attractive and manages to say enough to make the listening seem from choice—not from lack of having anything to say.

NEVER BE BORED

SHE never looked bored, but always seemed to be enjoying herself which is a characteristic of any guest who "pays her way."

Married women are often accused of not going out of their way to include unmarried women in their social life.

The criticism is often justified. But there is this for the lone woman to remember: If she will put herself out to fit in with the women when she finds herself in a group of married couples, she can be a real asset to the group—especially so far as the women are concerned. If she is only interested in impressing the husbands present, she will be out of the crowd before she is ever really in it. The women will see to that.

Chapter 23

HE AWOKE to find himself lying on the bunk of boughs minus his boots and hat and gunbelt. He had no headache but his mouth felt like a sand patch with skunk cabbage growing on it. The smell of coffee and bacon was in the air and he sat up, moving slowly, still groggy.

Abner said, "I been out and they's a whole passel of Double D men in town lookin' for you. Forty-niners, they say. They said you insulted their lady boss and socked Sam Cooper on the nose and Sam offered five hundred pesos for your hide. I fetched your horse and tied him outside."

Jeff pushed back his chair. "I think I'll go out and see just how bad Cooper's forty-niners want that gold."

Abner shook his head in disapproval. "You're supposed to be a smart man, Mr. Payne, and that wouldn't be smart at all. You'd be playin' right into the hands of Cooper and his gal friend."

"Girl friend? You mean Mrs. Denton?"

"Sure. I got plenty time on my hands and I get to see plenty that goes on. Never seed a client that had to call on her lawyer so often; never knowed a client that went drivin' with her lawyer so much. Can't talk in the office; gotta go out into the hills someplace."

Abner spit into the wash box.

The sick feeling returned to the pit of Jeff's stomach and he got up to pace the floor. "Why don't you turn me over to them and collect the five hundred?"

The old man said mildly, "Mebbe because I'm down myself. Or mebber because he raised his old eyes and looked directly in me. 'It's because I got you figgered as a feller who won't let things stand as they are.'"

Their glances locked, Jeff said tightly, "You're suggesting that I right the wrong I've done, how?"

"You'll find a way if you set your mind to it. Start with the beginnin'." Start with Dan Denton's murder and figger things out from there."

Jeff abruptly seated himself. "Pour me another cup of coffee, Abner."

He sipped the hot liquid, thinking. "The only ones with motive for murderin' Denton were John Starr, because of their feud, and

Chapter 24

"YES, I'm no longer foreman of the Double D. I'm a man with a price of five hundred dollars on his head. I can't be sure they'll play fair if I turn myself over to you and let you collect the reward. But they wouldn't; they'd shoot me and probably hold you for ransom."

"A hundred times five hundred dollars wouldn't repay us for the damage you've done. Jeff Payne, I'm glad you're sufferin'; I hope you continue to suffer. You took our home and drove our cattle into the hills; you wounded my father and forced Buddy to join a band of outlaws. I hope you'll never get any more sleep."

He nodded somberly. "I know. It doesn't do any good to say that if I hadn't listened to Cooper and Mrs. Denton they would have found somebody else; it wouldn't help to say that your men started firing on the Double D in Silverston; or that it would have started anyhow."

"We did not start it!" she flared. "Your men came charging at us when we were on foot and bunched!"

"Of understanding came into his face. "You thought that? But my men weren't charging; yours; they'd been paid and given the afternoon off. They were riding down to the Purple Palace just as your men had ridden down to the Bonanza a few minutes before."

She did not answer. Ed. Keever's hunch had been correct; it was now confirmed. He was speaking again. "As I said, it doesn't matter: it would have happened in any case and I would have started it." He reached inside his shirt and got out a thick wallet. He said, "I had three thousand dollars when I came to Silverston. I earned every cent of it, working cattle, trapping wild hares, and doing odd jobs. I was a tough town. I said twenty of your men fifty dollars each to make sure they wouldn't go back to you. At the time I felt sure that Mrs. Denton would repay me that thousand dollars. There's no hope of collectin' it now in I would be two thousand dollars. I want you to give it to your father as part payment of what I feel I owe him."

He held out the wallet to her. Ruth shook her head, clasping her hands behind her. "We don't want your money. We wouldn't buy back our home, our range, and won't give you the satisfaction of tellin' your conscience that you did what you could to make things right."

Chapter 23

Buddy Starr because he had a crush on Mrs. Denton.

Abner, snorted. "Forget them angles. I've lived around here all my life. John Starr didn't kill Dan Denton and neither did Buddy. Figger deeper. Figger from when Dan Denton and Sam Cooper went to Kansas City."

Jeff's eyes narrowed. "I'm beginning to get it. Denton is introduced to a showgirl by a friend of Cooper's. Dan marries her and brings her to Silver Valley. A month later—my God, no!"

"You're doin' all right. Keep figgerin'."

Jeff spoke tightly. "A month later Denton is murdered and Diana inherits a big cattle ranch and a share of the wealth."

"That's right. But her range is limited. If she drives out the Starrs and Walt Kirk and Ben Dowd—"

"She can expand," finished Jeff. "So the Starrs are blamed for Denton's death and the sorrowing widow vows to drive them out. What that is done, she'll turn on poor Ben and Walt and drive them out, too."

"Yeah. And Sam Cooper—" prompted Abner.

Jeff hesitated a long while before finishing, but he did it at last. "Sam Cooper marries Mrs. Denton and rises suddenly from a poor cowtown lawyer to a cattle king. The low-down—filthy—"

"Ain't no word suits him, is there? Well, you got it figgered; all you got to do is prove it." Jeff got up, buckled his gunbelt about him and reached for his hat. His voice was quiet but grim. "Thanks for everything, Abner; especially for making me realize that I'm still a man. You say my horse is in the wash box?"

"Yeah. Where you goin'?"

"To look up Shag Dolan. He may be the key to the whole thing."

"How do you figger that?"

"If you were Cooper and wanted Denton out of the way, who would you hire to do the job?"

Abner thought a moment. "If I was Cooper I wouldn't hire anybody. Too dangerous."

"He hired Shag for something. The six who quit with Shag were all men of the old Double D crew; I bet Cooper hired all of them to steal Denton's cattle and make trouble between him and John Starr."

Jeff gave the old man a tight smile and went out.

"You're going to have your home and range back," he told her. "I don't know just how it will come about, but it will. I'm sure I know who murdered Dan Denton and why. It wasn't anybody on the Starr side."

He saw the light of interest kindle in her eyes. "You know? Who was it?"

"I can't tell you because it's just a hunch. But it fits like the parts of a jig-saw puzzle. Every damn thing can be explained if it belongs to the Starr side."

"I—interest left her face and she smiled a bitter smile. She bent and lifted the buckets. "If you'll step aside I'd like to pass."

HE watched until a bend in the trail swallowed her, then soberly mounted his horse and rode towards the gap.

He came to a place where the trail was intersected by one which he guessed came up from the Starr place, and his farther along the path forked, the right branch leading into the gap and the ford beyond it and the left one climbing the shoulder which formed one side of the gap. Not wishing to be trapped again in Four-mile canyon, he turned right and presently found himself on a rock-studded flat. When he rode to the edge of this he could look down into Four-mile Canyon and knew that somewhere around here had lain the ambushers who had been waiting for his "ever unknown" rifleman.

Curious, Jeff scouted around and finally located the pile of boulders behind which the ambusher had crouched. Empty cartridge cases identified the place as a hide-out. He saw the "ever" of the bullets which had driven the fellow from cover and found another clump of rocks behind which the unknown friend had undoubtedly hidden. And as he sat his saddle looking for an enemy he heard the faint "ever" of the bullet which had driven the fellow from cover and found another clump of rocks behind which the unknown friend had undoubtedly hidden. ## Chapter 23

Jeff angled up a shoulder of a hill and found the trail on the crest which circled the valley. He had made it easily and without detection from the town where some of the Double D men were doubtless searching for him.

The whole scheme was appealingly plain. Sam Cooper, a poor cowtown lawyer, intelligent and crafty and envious of the wealth of an unlettered cattleman like Dan Denton, had paired up with a cheap showgirl named Diana somebody-or-other with whom he had probably played around in the past.

The last vestige of love was drowned in a sea of loathing. She was not a murderess in fact for she lacked the ability to ride horseback that would have been necessary to follow him and kill him on the range, but she was most certainly an accessory before and after the fact in a ruthless, premeditated crime.

To prove this was the thing. Prove it and the whole country would rise against this siren of Silver Valley and her partner in crime, would tear them from their throne and restore to the Starrs that which was theirs plus all the Double D wealth which Western Justice would not allow them to enjoy or pass on.

When he neared the cabin where he had met Ruth Starr he slowed his progress, thinking bitterly of that first meeting and of his pride in serving Diana Denton in a righteous war against wicked ne'er-do-wells.

He sighted the cabin through the trees and cut a circle around it, coming again to the trail which led to the creek; and suddenly from around a bend came Ruth Starr, bareheaded, her bronze curls shining in the sunlight. She was carrying two buckets of water, treading easily and gracefully. Jeff halted and so did she and for a moment they just stared at each other.

He saw her stiffen, saw the hazel eyes go hard and the red lips tighten. She said, "What are you doing up here?"

He took off his hat. "I want to get a load off my chest; I want to tell you as humbly as I can that you were right in what you said that day we met."

She released her breath, stooped gracefully and set the pails on the ground. When she straightened there was no warmth in her face nor was there satisfaction. She said, "So you finally tumbled to the truth."

She released her breath, stooped gracefully and set the pails on the ground. When she straightened there was no warmth in her face nor was there satisfaction. She said, "So you finally tumbled to the truth."

He saw her stiffen, saw the hazel eyes go hard and the red lips tighten. She said, "What are you doing up here?"

How to Use 2,4-D Safely in Farm Weed Control

Weed Control in Corn by Pre-emergence Treatment with 2,4-D. Right—3 Rows Treated; Left Rows Untreated.

Weed control has been revolutionized by 2,4-D. In the short period since 1945 it has become the most widely used chemical weed killer in the United States. Commercial production in 1948 was estimated at approximately 28,000,000 pounds—three times that of 1947. An understanding of this new substance is essential to effective and safe use.

Most of the broadleaf annual plants—both crops and weeds—are killed by 2,4-D. Many are highly sensitive to 2,4-D and kill easily. Others are only moderately sensitive, but can be killed. Biennial and perennial weeds vary widely in their reaction to 2,4-D. A few perennials, including dandelion and plantain, can be killed with one treatment. Curly dock and other weeds with taproots are harder to kill. 2,4-D usually kills the foliage of broadleaf perennials that have creeping rootstocks, such as bindweed and Canada thistle. Repeated spraying of the new growth may be needed to kill all the roots and rootstocks.

The various crop plants react differently to 2,4-D, just as do weeds. Perennial grasses are generally resistant, and broadleaf plants are usually susceptible. Garden vegetables and flowers, almost without exception, are highly sensitive, and no plant is entirely immune. Even crop plants considered tolerant, especially young plants, may be injured severely by an overdose. Since most perennial grasses generally are highly resistant and white clover (including Ladino) more or less tolerant, weeds can be killed or controlled with 2,4-D spray without injury to white or Ladino clover-grass pastures and lawns. The use of 2,4-D for weed control in small grains, corn, and other crops of the grass family has been very successful.

The effect of 2,4-D on crop plants is influenced by the type used, the stage and vigor of plant growth, and differences in susceptibility within the species. Seedlings of some plants can be killed easily but as they approach maturity, killing is more difficult. Different corn hybrids have been found to vary from susceptible to resistant. Flax is generally sensitive, but the range of reaction between commercial varieties is wide.

The dosage for spraying weeds in growing crops depends on what the crops will tolerate. Weeds can sometimes be controlled satisfactorily without being killed. Those that are stunted offer less competition to crop plants for moisture and food.

Pre-emergence weed control is one of the most promising developments since the discovery of 2,4-D. By spraying the soil before the weeds break through the ground many can be killed that are not controlled by later applications. This practice also reduces heavy weed infestations, in the event early cultivation is not possible. Some of the facts you should know about 2,4-D before using it are:

Do not dust from an airplane. 2,4-D dusted from an airplane may drift for miles, killing or damaging susceptible crops such as vegetables, flowers, cotton, etc., on your or your neighbor's farm.

Follow directions closely. 2,4-D is not a cure-all. Study the label on the container. Measure accurately—an overdose may seriously injure even tolerant crops. Check equipment carefully for leaks. Proper nozzles, accurately adjusted, are the key to safe, thorough spraying.

Apply at the right time. 2,4-D is most effective when plants are in active growth. Safeguard sensitive plants and do not apply dilute spray solutions when the vegetation is wet with rain or dew. Avoid windy days for dusting and spraying.

Use separate sprayer for 2,4-D. Minute quantities of 2,4-D left in a sprayer to be used later for insecticides or fungicides will damage sensitive plants. Clean the sprayer thoroughly with ammonia or activated charcoal after using, or much better still, use a separate sprayer.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor
Warren Times-Mirror,
Dear Sir:

It is interesting to notice the large number of new homes being built around Warren this spring, in all directions. Most of them are small, but really nice and it's a pleasure to know that so many families are taking an interest in owning their own homes even in this time of war and fear for the future.

The vicinity of Pleasant Township is also getting their share of new homes and we who live over here are happy to see it grow. So far, there are not many places of business, no doubt because it is so near to Warren. But we do have one nice combination store and eat-market, a good auto-repair shop, and then there's the Grange hall often used as a community center, a really good school, "though we do need a larger one" with a room that can be used as an auditorium, and we are very proud of our new Fire Department. That the people have had such success in this new venture, proves they are really civic minded and capable of accomplishing still more to improve Pleasant Township, and I believe that many of us would like especially to see a small church built over here, or even a mission house.

I realize that the large churches of Warren are not far away, and "some families do take their children to church school there" but, there are a number of children in Pleasant Township and my guess would be about one-third of them ever get to church school. Not because their parents don't believe in going to church, but like many these days, just seem to feel they cannot spare the time to take the children in the car themselves. And I believe that far more children would stand a better chance of getting some of the Bible training that every child should have, if they could have a little church near enough to get there themselves, if no one has time to take them I believe that a small Non-denominational church would serve the purpose best. After all, we who believe in the Holy Bible, worship one God and believe in one Heaven, so why should we not worship together?

Civic improvements are right, and good, but, what will we gain if we neglect to teach our children the laws God gave us to live by? All through the Bible we are warned that we must not neglect to train our children in his word, if we want God to continue to bless us. In the Sunday School lesson of April 29th we learned from the book of Joshua, how the people conquered the enemy and gained the land they wanted, but were so busy they failed to teach their children about God. Read the results; the Book of Deuteronomy especially the 8th to the 28th chapters. I believe it still is meant for use today. Material things are good to have, and we all covet them, but our children are our greatest heritage, and if we fail to see their need of Bible training we fail them in their greatest need, faith in God will in later years, give them the anchor they need, and they will not easily be led to believe in communism and a lot of other isms.

I believe this community, or any other community who are able to work together to make other civic improvements, can also succeed in building a house of God to assemble together to worship together and teach their children Bible laws to guide their lives by a community where the people have a church, and attend it, is nearly always a good place to build a home and it may be that if the people of Pleasant would show their interest in getting a small church, that some of the larger churches of Warren would be willing to give us a lift in the name of the one who loved little children and and for them to learn of their Heavenly Father's Love.

Working together to gain a Fire Department and better school, has been very instrumental in bringing the people of this community closer together, and I believe working together to build a house of God — would surely be a blessing. Why not try it?

A Pleasant Twp't resident and reader of the Times-Mirror.

W P L REPORTING

There is a distinct difference between a library and a public library. A library is a collection of books; a public library is a collection of books plus people who read them.

The Warren Public Library has proved itself a public library in the best sense during the Spring Book Festival, held in the children's room. For more than a week, classes from the second grades have been visiting the children's room for a story hour and a browsing period during which they have become acquainted with the books. The fun these children have had was a source of delight not only to the library staff but to the adult patrons who came in while the classes were here.

The library staff would like to pay its sincere respects to the teachers and to the parents of these recent young visitors. In spite of having between 25 and 35 children in the room at a time, there was no need for "hushing" or dispute-setting.

Recent books received by the Warren Public Library include the following:

GOD'S MEN, by Pearl Buck, is a portrait of two men, both sons of American Missionaries. The story describes how each man developed according to his own nature, one as a power-mad publisher and the other as a rather fanatical but appealing crusader. It seems to this reader that the publisher is a not too subtle portrait of an actual publisher—which adds to the interest.

THE LIEUTENANT MUST BE MAD, by Helmut Kirst, is one of the few German novels written since the recent war. The author was 18 when Hitler came into power and he spent some of his most formative years in the campaigns of Poland, France and Russia. The gradual disillusionment of some of Hitler's picked young men makes an interesting story.

SING AT MY WAKE, by the Harper prize winning author, Jo Sinclair, tells the story of a woman whose emotional distortion wraps the lives of her husband and her child, as well as her own. Her slow groping to a solution and a meaning for herself is the theme of the book.

BEARS IN THE CAVIAR, by Charles Thayer, recounts the often amusing experiences of an American diplomat in eastern Europe.

Three Communities Are Planning Penn Dutch Festivals

Harrisburg—The life and custom of the Pennsylvania Dutch will be the theme of folk festivals to be held this summer in three Pennsylvania communities, Kutztown, Wyomissing and Hershey.

The second annual Pennsylvania Dutch Folk Festival, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Dutch Folklore Center of Franklin and Marshall College, will be held at Kutztown, starting on July 4 and continuing through July 8.

The focal point of this five-day festival will be the Kutztown Fair Grounds, where seminars on all aspects of Pennsylvania Dutch life and folklore will be conducted daily in 50 tents by experts.

All inquiries concerning the Kutztown festival, including information on accommodations for visitors, will be handled by the Folk Festival Office, Kutztown, which opened May 1.

Kutztown is located on Route 223, which runs from Lancaster to Reading to Allentown and is midway between Reading and Allentown. Route 22, which runs from New York through Harrisburg to the West, is intersected with a road to Kutztown eight miles from the festival site.

The Institute of Fine Arts in Wyomissing will be the scene of a June festival, with the Second Annual Berks County Folk Festival scheduled to be held there Friday, June 8 (rain date—June 9). The institute is located at Trent and Belmont Aves., Wyomissing, ten minutes from the heart of Reading.

For the third consecutive year, Pennsylvania Dutch Days will be held in Hershey August 23, 24 and 25. This folk festival has attracted thousands during the last two celebrations.

Among the many features now being planned for presentation during Hershey's "Dutch Days" will be demonstrations of Pennsylvania Dutch design painting, cooking and quilting. The Hershey Sports Arena will house displays of Pennsylvania Dutch designed articles with commentaries by craftsmen who create the articles. Hershey is located 15 miles East of Harrisburg on Route 422.

Episcopal Diocese Holding Convention

Representatives of Trinity Memorial church are in Emporium today and Saturday to attend the 41st annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie and the annual convention of the Woman's Auxiliary, being held in Emmanuel Episcopal church.

The joint session of the two groups convened at 2:30 p. m. today, with business sessions following the brief opening service. The bishop's annual charge to the convention is to be given during this evening's service.

On Saturday, there will be a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a. m., and business sessions at 9 a. m., and 2 p. m., the While Mr. Thayer's adventures throw much light on the alien motives of the Russian mind, his comments on life at West Point are equally amusing. He did not like it.)

THE SALT-BOX, by Jan Hildard, is the autobiographical reminiscence of a girl from Nova Scotia whose father was an English remittance man with delusions of grandeur. He expected to make a fortune any week and his children lived in the midst of continual preparations for moving in case of sudden wealth. This situation plus an assortment of interesting relatives provides an amusing book for lighter reading.

Hello folks. More nice weather and another busy week for conservation farmers in Warren county, with more farmers making plans to become conservation farmers. The oat planting has just about been completed and most of the corn ground plowed in preparation for the next busy spell. Jack Decker, SCS Aide, delivered completed farm plans to Bill Atkin, Tidoute farmer; E. H. Harrison, of Enterprise; Oscar Lauger, Warren county champion potato grower; Walter Nielson, Veteran Agriculture Instructor; Carl Johnson, farmer in Chandeliers Valley, and L. N. Mourer, up Swede Hollow way. "Red" Falconer, Lander farmer,

Henry Dyer, up Bear Lake way, made his conservation farm plan.

"Hank" has several wet areas that he plans to dry up with a terrace, some pretty open woodland that he is going to interplant and some thorn brush pasture that is going to be improved to properly support the herd he is building up.

F. B. I. Probes Red Letter Writing in Nearby Erie County

Erie—FBI agents and postal inspectors have been asked to investigate what Civil Defense Director Robert Blair terms an effort "by Communist agents to sabotage the Erie Civil Defense program."

"Evidently the Communists aren't as apathetic about Civil Defense as we are," Blair declared.

The defense chief says that "a good cross section" of Erie has received obscene letters in the mail from "Hugh B. Ruddy, director general, air raid warden division of the Civil Defense program committee of Pennsylvania."

An accompanying communication bears a letterhead, "Civilian Defense Program Committee, Erie Pennsylvania."

"The letter is designed to cast ridicule and abuse upon our defense efforts here," Blair charged. He said that the letters "were completely false," that the Erie letterhead was faked and that there is no "Civilian Defense Program Committee of Pennsylvania."

The defense chief said the letters were particularly offending to women. "I've had scores of telephone calls on this filthy effort to sabotage our work," he added.

Blair feels that there "is no question whatsoever" but that "Communists are behind this effort."

He said that the FBI and postal inspectors have been furnished a full report.

more strips this week. These strips tie in with the diversion he built last fall to give him better erosion control on the long hillside.

Jack Decker helped Jordan Christenson, Columbus farmer, stake out and start building the terrace system in one of his wet fields. "Shorty" will complete the system later this year.

Lloyd and Evan Wilcox, brother farmers in the Lander area, staked out and plowed in strips to complete the erosion control below a diversion built last fall. While Lloyd and I were testing some pasture soil, Evan was disking a three acre piece of land preparing it for seeding with ladino clover and orchard grass for improved pasture.

See you all next week.

Ice Hockey's Champ Goalie William Ronald Duran of the Montreal Canadian Ice Hockey Champions, was the first goal tender in the history of the sport to win the Vezina Trophy for four consecutive years. This trophy, awarded annually to the major league goal tender who has had the least number of goals scored in his net for the season, is named in honor of Georges Vezina, who guarded the nets for 15 years for the Montreal Canadiens.

Ice hockey is considered to be the fastest and roughest game of all sports, and most hockey players are usually well past their peak by the time they reach their 25th or 26th birthday, but Duran was definitely an exception to the rule because it was at the ripe ripe "old age" of 32 when, during the 1946-1947 season, he captured the coveted Vezina Cup for the 4th consecutive time. Duran, a huge powerful 185-pound six-footer, born in Toronto, Canada, started playing hockey when he was eleven, and though he "arrived" late he is rarely too late to stop the puck when it whizzes toward his net. It isn't "too late" to come to Carlson's Service Stores to do your Christmas shopping in comfort. Our U. S. ## Fifty-Year Emblems Are Presented Two Warren Brothers by Masonic Fraternity

An event perhaps never before equalled in the history of fraternal organizations in the state of Pennsylvania occurred during the meeting of North Star Lodge No. 241, F. & A. M., Thursday evening in Masonic Temple, Liberty street, when two brothers were both presented emblems in recognition of fifty years of continuous membership in the same lodge.

The men who received these unusual awards, presented by W. E. Yeager of Warren, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Pennsylvania, who with his staff, made a visitation to the lodge, were I. A. Reed, aged 79, Crescent supervisor and camp counselor; Charles R. Tranter, boys department program promotion; Roger Mahaffy, rifle instructor and camp staff; John Stachowicz, Hi-Y advisor; boys department supervisor; Murray Cameron, camp director; Allen Rogers, Junior Hi-Y Boy Club advisor.

Genevieve Phillips, Mrs. James Chilli and Ruth Bielenberg, girls' swimming instructors; W. E. Hewitt, William Oelslager, wrestling team instructors; Nick Crooks, basketball coach; and Paul Steinkamp, swimming instructor.

These individual tributes were accorded during the business session which followed a delicious 6:30 birthday dinner served in the long banquet hall on the second floor of the association building.

Officers, leaders and special guests were seated at a table centered with lilacs and carnations, and gay red candles lighted additional tables. F. H. Hetrick, chairman of the annual meeting and toastmaster, presented Mr. Kottcamp for the invocation which prefaced the serving.

W. Howard Alexander, welcoming the group of about 130 persons, gave his annual report as president of the association and referred to the various reports which were in printed form at each guest's place. In his remarks, he spoke especially of the Youth Canteen's progress; also of certain repairs made to the building which are not covered in the Community Chest budget and will necessitate a financial campaign later in the year.

After a brief prayer by Dr. H. H. Barr, Robert R. Young read minutes of the last annual meeting and Dan K. Walton, general secretary, referred to the two birthdays being celebrated, the 100th of the National YMCA, the 65th of the local association. "The major concern of the YMCA has always been its religious work," he stated, "and while methods and programs may change, the central purpose remains the same." Concluding, Mr. Walton asked his listeners to refer to the summary of the two histories in their programs and then presented other staff members who carry on the program locally: Jim Hengst, boys' work secretary; Bill Mulvey, physical director; and Kathryn Bauer, office secretary, thanking them and each person present for his interest and support.

Dr. Barr brought greetings to the "Y" from the Warren County Ministerial Association; Mrs. Robert Whitehill for the YWCA; C. C. Wims for the Warren County Council of Boy Scouts, each bespeaking active continuation of the association in the century to come.

Charles Tranter read the report of the tellers, announcing election of A. L. Rasmussen, Charles Koebley, Ivan Brumagim, A. E. Johnson, and Alan Templeton to the board. Other tellers for the court were Charles Eaton and Ernest Owens.

For the evening's program, Mr. Hetrick presented Max Darone, general secretary of the Erie YMCA, who combined serious facts with humor in an entertaining and instructive address. He spoke of "Y" work in general, mentioned the centennial conference to be held in Cleveland in June, and stressed the fact that "we are not at the end of our rope because we have reached this 100-year mark, but are just getting our breaths for the next lap, the second century." Concluding, he commended the local committee and those others responsible for the successful program that is being carried on in Warren.

Final event on the program was the beautiful colored movies shown by Hal Harrison, of the Post-Gazette, with a running commentary that added much to the portrayal.

After the gathering had been dismissed, many remained to reminisce with friends and staff members and to tour the building. Special attention was given the Canteen, which many had not previously visited.

Mr. Fowler then presented choir plans to the following who will be graduating as members of this year's senior class: Carol Amacher, Calvin Baxter, Aner Carlstrom, Phyllis Fadale, Grace Germonito, Sally Irvine, Rebecca Kelm, Carroll Kotmar, Alfred Moore, Catherine Musante, Johan Stohl, and Robert Eames, interpolating appropriate remarks about and tributes to each as the presentations were made.

In turn, members of the choir honored Mr. Fowler with a beautiful Elgin wrist watch in appreciation for his work with them, Martin Carlson making the presentation.

The evening concluded with the Waring arrangement of "The Nutcracker Suite", and here the general excitement of the evening almost let the choir get away from Mr. Fowler's beat for a few opening bars. But their youthful enthusiasm soon subsided to his expert direction and the number was a sparkling finish to a most enjoyable concert.

Draft of College Students Delayed

Washington—(AP)—Drafting of college students was ordered postponed until they have a chance to provide their draft boards with aptitude-test scores or evidence of scholastic standing.

Selective Service headquarters told state directors, however, that no indications will be postponed beyond Aug. 20.

The state officials also were reminded of earlier instructions to postpone inductions of college and high school students for 30 days beyond the end of the academic year to enable them to find essential jobs or enlist for service.

The aptitude tests will be given at college testing centers through out the nation during the next two months. Draft boards may use either the scores made in the test, or the regular scholastic record in deciding whether to require student deferments.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey last January granted a one-month postponement from induction for the 25,000 students then graduating from college, in order to give them a chance to find jobs in a "critical occupation in essential industry."

He disclosed today that at the end of that postponement period, about 2,500 were able to prove to local boards their essentiality in civilian jobs.

"The rest were drafted," Hershey said.

Under the present law, draft deferment for students ends with the end of the current academic year.

directed and accompanied by the High School Orchestra under Harry Summers.

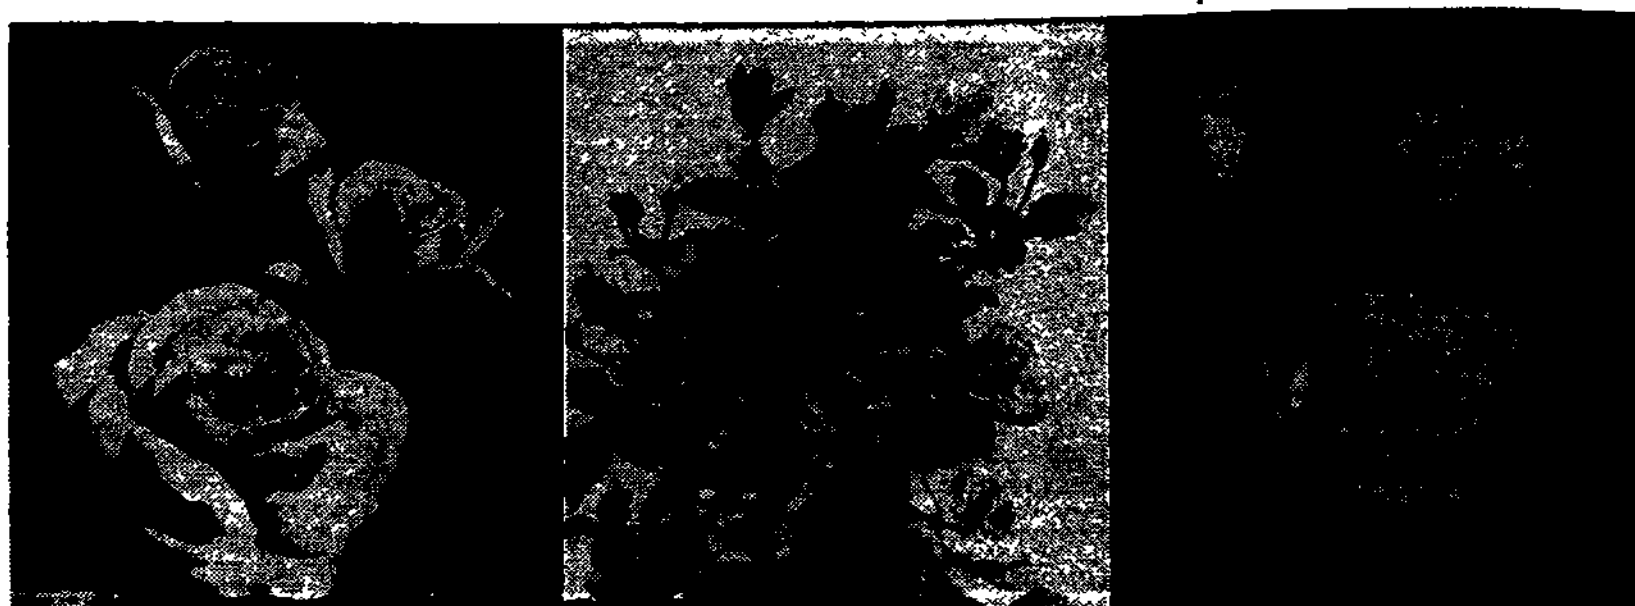

Mr. Fowler then presented choir plans to the following who will be graduating as members of this year's senior class: Carol Amacher, Calvin Baxter, Aner Carlstrom, Phyllis Fadale, Grace Germonito, Sally Irvine, Rebecca Kelm, Carroll Kotmar, Alfred Moore, Catherine Musante, Johan Stohl, and Robert Eames, interpolating appropriate remarks about and tributes to each as the presentations were made.

In turn, members of the choir honored Mr. Fowler with a beautiful Elgin wrist watch in appreciation for his work with them, Martin Carlson making the presentation.

The evening concluded with the Waring arrangement of "The Nutcracker Suite", and here the general excitement of the evening almost let the choir get away from Mr. Fowler's beat for a few opening bars. But their youthful enthusiasm soon subsided to his expert direction and the number was a sparkling finish to a most enjoyable concert.

QUEENS OF ROSEDOM: THE NEW ALL-AMERICA WINNERS

The flower world's most coveted prize, the All-America Rose award, has been captured by three magnificent newcomers which will reign as the Queens of Rosedom in 1952. They are: Helen Traubel, a sparkling apricot pink hybrid tea; Vogue, a floribunda of brilliant cherry-coral; and Fred Howard, a hybrid tea of rich yellow pencilled with soft pink. The new "Oscar" winners proved the finest of thousands of seedlings to win America's top rose honors, and will be available this fall to gardeners everywhere.

The A.A.R.S. crown is awarded to the finest new varieties only after a severe testing period of two years. Many fine varieties are entered in the competition but few can meet the exacting All-America standards which require that the rose must grow well in all parts of the country. Tests are conducted under actual growing conditions in eighteen special gardens located in different climatic sections of the country. The first public showing of the 1952 winners was at the Rockefeller Center gardens in New York.

United Nations Troops Are Forced Out

Chinese poured through a break in South Korean lines. They streamed down the Inje-Hongchon road on the central front.

A veteran American Division astride this road was fighting attacks on three sides. A Correspondent Nate Polowetzky said it was in "great trouble."

A Correspondent George McArthur reported all U. N. troops had pulled back out of Red Korea. South Koreans had held a 25 mile line from the Inje area to the Sea of Japan.

Correspondent McArthur said the withdrawal through the mountains from this line was orderly. Rain drenched the battlefields Friday night. Red commanders counted on spring rains to bog down Allied armor and provide protection from the skies for their masses of infantrymen.

Their heaviest weight was thrown against the east-central sector. Up to midnight Thursday they had lost 9,000 men there. A Correspondent William C. Barnard reported.

"Their losses after midnight were astounding," he said.

Through the night Allied bombers and fighters bombed and strafed by the light of flares. Massed artillery fired steadily into swarming Reds.

There was also a discussion about selection of officers to do the inspecting at the drum corps competition.

The committee in charge of boat racing on the river reported that the Chautauque Lake Power Boat Club is going ahead with plans to stage a program.

According to the present schedule it is proposed to have the selection of the queen on the evening of June 22, and the coronation one week later, June 29. No definite program has as yet been adopted for Monday evening, July 12, but several evening, July 3, according to the tentative schedule, there will be a wrestling exhibition, followed on Wednesday with the usual traditional parade, drum corps competition, fireworks and grand finale. It is expected the usual vesper service will be held under the auspices of the Ministerial Association Sunday, July 1.

It was learned today that big car racing under the auspices of the American Automobile Association have been scheduled for the Dicky Ben speedway some time during the afternoon or early evening of the Fourth, and that some of the cars will probably be exhibited in the parade.

relations committee member. He told a reporter "we can't overthrow it when we don't know what it is."

The president said he decided he needed a new general in the Far East when MacArthur called on the Chinese Communists in Korea on March 24 to negotiate a truce, in advance of a proposed presidential peace proposal.

MacArthur replied to this, too, in the statement issued by his chief aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney.

The deposed general said he had twice previously tried to obtain a cease-fire agreement, both times "without conferring with higher authority and without the slightest exception being taken thereto."

As for the March 24 offer to the Chinese Red Commander, MacArthur said:

"Such action on my part could only be regarded as supplementary to and in full support of any political move toward peace unless an agreement was in contemplation on the enemy's own terms."

In an expansive mood at his news conference, the president also said that:

1. Secretary of State Acheson cautioned at an April 6 White House conference against MacArthur's removal on grounds it would stir up a political fuss. And it did, he was right, the president added with a grin.

2. He is happy the senate armed forces and foreign relations committees upheld yesterday a ruling that Gen. Omar Bradley did not have to divulge what was said by whom at the April 6 White House meeting.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

COPENHAGEN—(NEA)—The American ambassador to Denmark, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, invited us to luncheon at the Embassy. Her Danish cook resembled serving plain American food when she knew so many richer dishes. But our sympathetic hostess was aware of the lavish meals the hospitable Danes had been giving us. She thought a simple American chicken pie would be welcome. It tasted plain wonderful.

The night before we dined with the Foreign Press Association at Solyst, an exclusive restaurant. Unlike the ambassador, Director-General Helge Svendsen did not restrain his cooks. Among the lordly procession of Danish specialties there were delicious liver paste in large wedges, served with lead aquavit and beer, cutlets of wild boar and a mountainous dessert consisting of warm apples and pastry with a sauce of whipped parfait and cream.

Ole Bjorn Kraft, the minister of foreign affairs, gave a dinner, too, in Christiansborg, the vast palace where parliament sits and King Frederik IX entertains officially. It began with clear beef soup with squares of marrow and ended with a compote of fresh fruit covered with whipped cream, flaked with shavings of bitter chocolate. But the minister's genial wife asked us to her home. "You will enjoy a simple family luncheon," she said.

Two days later we sat in the spacious dining room of the second lady of Denmark, Madam Kraft's daughter and her granddaughter lunched with us. The "simple home meal" turned out to be grapefruit with mounds of sugar, pork cutlet with mushrooms, peas and hot potato chips, brown gravy, three kinds of bread. Next a platter of Danish cheeses and another of sliced salami and pressed ham. Dessert was warm pastries fresh from Madam Minister's favorite konditori.

Rodrig med Fide (Danish Red Berry Fudding With Cream) (Serves 4 to 5)

One and two-thirds lbs. red currants, 1 1/2 lbs. raspberries, 4 cups water, 1/2 cup potato flour or cornstarch, vanilla, blanched almonds. Boil the washed berries in water until all juice is extracted. Strain through sieve or cheese cloth. Return strained juice to fire. Sweeten to taste. Remove from fire, hot but not boiling, and thicken with 1/2 cup potato flour or cornstarch to each 4 cups juice. Do not boil. Add vanilla. Pour into glass bowl. When it begins to thicken, decorate top with almonds. Serve with sugar and thick cream. Susanne Palabo, one of Denmark's best known cooks and author of "Danish Cookery," gave us the recipe.

SUNDAYS' MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ham and eggs, toasted English muffins, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Jellied bouillon, lemon slices, crackers, roast chicken, celery stuffing, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered asparagus, watercress and cucumber salad, French dressing, Danish red berry pudding with cream, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Fruit salad, sour cream dressing, assorted cheeses, crisp rolls, butter or fortified margarine, chocolate layer cake, tea, milk.

"No Man Can Serve Two Masters."

PREACHING to his disciples, Jesus said:

"No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

"Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body more than raiment?"

"Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?"

"Take first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

(Taken from St. Matthew 6, 24-34)

Bible Should Not Be Censored

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

"GOD'S mills grind slow but sure," wrote the poet, George Herbert, and that variously re-quoted fact was manifest in the course and destiny of the Southern Kingdom of the Jewish people, the Kingdom of Judah, and the two tribes that remained loyal to Rehoboam, when the 10 tribes revolted under Jeroboam.

That Kingdom lasted for 136 years after the Northern Kingdom fell, but it began under a king, Rehoboam, threatening to chastise his subjects with scorpions, where his father, Solomon, had chastised them with whips. It was a bad beginning, and most of its course, and its kings, continued the evil.

There is, indeed, much of bloodshed and tragedy in the historical books of the Bible, along with so much that is good and noble, that a correspondent who reads my column has suggested that for the reading of the Bible today much of the records of cruelty and bloodshed should be omitted.

It is a suggestion with which I cannot agree, though it is justified in a limited way. It is obvious that certain parts of the Bible are not well suited for public or family reading, and this fact has led to the compilations of selections well adapted for such use. Many years ago, in Ontario, where the reading of a portion of Scripture each day was mandatory in the public schools, the Hon. G. W. Ross, then Minister of Education, issued such a compilation, which I think was excellent for its purpose; but his political opponents made a great outcry, as if he had blasphemed against the Good Book, in doing what other reverent hands have since done again and again.

But for my own part I do not want expurgated books. I assume that if they need censoring I am as competent to do my own censoring as to have it done by some, possibly incompetent, censorious person. And above all, I do not want my Bible expurgated or censored.

I count it one of the great glories of the Bible that it is a book of remarkable realism and honesty. It does not suppress facts unfavorable to the Jewish people, or to their greatest leaders and heroes. Their faults and mistakes, their very sins (often deep-dyed, as in the case of David's virtual murder of Uriah), are set down with grim honesty, and without any alleviating word.

The glory of the Bible comes in the setting down of the good as well, and in that great, glad, hopeful fact of the good emerging and triumphing over evil, as out of dark and troubled times the prophets stand forth in righteousness, and He, whose coming the prophets foretold, brings the fullness of love and truth to light.

A history of our times would be wholly dishonest and wrong, if along with all that is good and sublime in our times, it did not record the horrors of Hitlerism, and the later horrors of Soviet concentration camps.

Trapeze Performer Works Without Net

Shining pre-eminently among the many stars that sparkle in the firmament that constitutes the thrill-packed program of the great Biller Bros. three-ring wild animal circus will be dainty and petite little Teresa Morales, neccessary sensationist of the single trapeze. She will reveal here in Warren, Wednesday, May 23rd at the Old Brewery circus grounds a serious routine of flying heel and toe-to-the-bar catches as her trapeze swings in mighty mid-air arcs high in the dome of the acres of canvas that comprises the "big top" of America's newest and largest circus.

Performances will take place at 3:15 and 8:00 p. m. with additional stars and displays of outstanding quality to satisfy the most blasé and critical of circus critics.

America's most respected and beloved circus family, the great Biller Bros. Circus, headlines the performance. Representing the fifth generation of famous circus stars, Chita, Cosetta, Tripoli, Ramon and Bennie represent the acme in whirlwind, somersaulting bareback riding and complete a four-high somersault bareback riding and complete a four-high somersault from a teeter-board to the shoulders of a pyramid of brothers and sisters.

Biller Bros. Circus will arrive early in the morning on 130 thousand dollars worth of all new GMC tractors and represents an aggregate of 250 thousand dollars invested in wild animals, horses, canvas tents, grandstand chairs, elephants, costumes and circusdom's most complete and compact traveling kitchen and cook house.

Advice From State College Corn Team

State College—Farmers who are unable to get long season corn in the ground on time would do well to use shorter season hybrids in order to be sure of a mature crop at harvest time.

According to men of the Corn Team at the Pennsylvania State College, farmers in previous years have planted the long season corn too late for proper maturing, and have ended up with moldy corn in their corn cribs. By using the shorter season corn, they say farmers may be assured of a good crop of solid corn.

Though the yield from short season corn is not as heavy as from long season hybrids, men from the Corn Team say that savings will be appreciable in the quality of corn harvested.

Midseason hybrids recommended according to adaptation areas on The Pennsylvania Adaptation Map (above) are: Area No. 1, midseason corn—La. 4059, Oh. W10, Oh. W64; Area No. 2, midseason—La. 4059, W64; Area No. 3, midseason—Pa. 5602, Pa. 611, Pa. 612, Oh. K24, Pa. 7526; Area No. 4, midseason—Oh. M15, Pa. 7520, Pa. 7501; Area No. 5, midseason—Wis. 335, Wis. 412, Pa. 7414, Pa. 490.

Short season hybrids are: Area

No. 1, none; Area No. 2, Pa. 5602, Pa. 611, Pa. 612, Pa. 7526; Area No. 3, short season—Pa. 7520, Pa. 7501, Oh. M15; Area No. 4, short season—Wis. 412, Wis. 335, Pa. 490, Pa. 7414; Area No. 5, short season—Wis. 275.

Further information on recommended hybrids and varieties adapted to Pennsylvania conditions may be obtained by writing to the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association at the Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—So you want to be a television performer? Okay, be one. Not me. I'd rather earn a living flagpole sitting or sticking my head in a lion's mouth. Things like that don't require so much courage.

But I've learned my lesson. I've learned you don't outgrow stage fright.

Some thirty years or more ago I was given a star role in a program put on for a parent-teachers association program at one of the more prominent Kansas City public grammar schools.

My job was to recite an eight line poem. At the proper moment I strolled out on the stage and began:

"It isn't raining rain to me—"

And suddenly my knees began to vibrate.

"It's raining violets."

My brain began to pound. The faces in the audience turned into a gigantic eye that swam toward me with lightning speed. I hesitated.

"It isn't raining rain to me—"

My mind reeled. My body shook. "I-I—I—It's r-r-r-raining da-da-da-daff-daffodils," I quavered.

The rest of the poem forsook me utterly. I stood there in utter quaking misery a moment, and then walked off the stage glassy-eyed—like a sleep walker. To this day I can't remember the rest of that poem. But I can still hear the titters of laughter from that audience.

All my life since then I have detected any occasion I had to get up in public. Well, last week I was ambushed into giving an introduction to an hour-long television drama on the Korean war, presented by the Pulitzer Prize Playhouse over the ABC network.

For days I went around the house trying to memorize my 180 words.

"The war in Korea has been going on for a long time," I mumbled. And then everything would go blank.

"I don't see why you're so nervous," Frances said sympathetically. "You don't mind making a fool of yourself at parties."

The day of the program came, and I still couldn't memorize my 150 simple words.

"That's all right," said the director, "just read them."

In the cast was an eight-year-old Chinese-American boy, Larry Lee, who played a Korean orphan.

"Doesn't the camera worry you?" I asked enviously.

"Naw, I like it," he said. "I'm worried about my screen credits. They say I get them at the end of this program, but I like to get them at the beginning."

This boyish aplomb shattered me completely.

The program started. I was seated at a desk waiting, looking into a camera about four feet away. Two little red lights suddenly gleamed. I was on.

And the camera eye immediately seemed to open to the size of the grand canyon. Sweat popped out on my forehead. My hands shook. I tried to read as fast as I could, but the 150 words seemed to be as long as "Gone With the Wind." Finally I finished, the red lights winked out, and I was off. I was too weak to get up from the desk.

The next day I came into the office and a fellow worker said: "My wife saw you on television last night."

"What did she say?" I asked, shrinking inwardly.

"She said you sure are losing a lot of hair," he answered.

Later several other people made the same remark. And I guess that summed up the general critical reaction—except for one letter that observed:

"Lord, but you're gonna be an ugly old man."

Well, bowing to widespread public demand, I have decided to leave television to Tallulah Bankhead and Groucho Marx. It didn't rain violets to me—it just rained.

Announce Starting Lineup For Warren Merchants Opening Contest Saturday Afternoon

Manager Emmy Morrison today announced the tentative starting lineups for the Warren Merchants' first game of the season tomorrow afternoon at the State Hospital field.

The game will get under way at 2:30 o'clock, with the Frewsburg nine furnishing the opposition. It will go into the record books as a Legion Semi-Pro League scrap. On Sunday afternoon, the Merchants will go to Westfield, N. Y., for a league scrap with that club. Morrison has nominated Rod Kerchner, a southpaw, to open the season on the mound, with Don Sharp behind the plate.

Other likely starters will be Bill Massa, center field; Jack Baker at 1st; Nonny Castagnino at 3rd; Bill Weidert in right field; Red Tome or Dean Whitaker in left field; Dick Reed or Campton at short; and Jack White at 2nd.

The team, which is sponsored by a score of Warren area businesses and industries, is one of the strongest organized here in several seasons, and should prove a popular drawing card.

No admission will be charged for the games at the State Hospital field, but the hat will be passed at each game, with the proceeds to be used to help pay the team's expenses.

Yankees Would Be Happy If All Games Were Played at Home

By The Associated Press
Attention radio quiz show fans: Here's the jackpot question. When did the New York Yankees last lose a ball game at Yankee Stadium?

No coaching, please. No peeking in the old Sporting News.

The answer is Sept. 26, 1950. A World Series and 10 straight 1951 victories have passed and the end is not in sight. Talk about Boston's friendly Fenway. The Yankees home in the Bronx has that stopped six ways.

Just look at the record:

At Home W. L.

New York 10 0

Boston 5 4

One day the Yanks bomb you to death. Next day they finesse you with skillful pitching and brilliant defense. It must be discouraging for the tourists.

Freshman Manager Paul Richards brings his upstart Chicago White Sox to town today, prepared to feed southpaw pitching to Casey Stengel's children. Maybe that will work. It hasn't so far.

You won't see many better-pitched games than Early Wynn threw at the Yanks yesterday. Still he lost 1-0, as his Cleveland Tribe left 13 on the bases.

Joe DiMaggio applied the clinch with an innocent first-inning single scoring Dr. Bobby Brown. Wynn gave up only three hits in his seven-inning stay, one a triple by Gerry Coleman in the eighth. Coleman was erased when a squeeze play backfired.

All day the Indians labored combing Allie Reynolds for nine hits. But it did no good.

They blew their big chance in the eighth when Hank Bauer's slingshot peg from left nipped Sam Chapman, trying to score from third on a fly ball.

Big Gus Zernial continued his home run streak with his seventh in four consecutive games for the Philadelphia A's. Gus tied an American League record, set by Tony Lazzeri in 1938. But he fell one short of Ralph Kiner's major league high, hung up in 1947.

The A's crept out of the cellar on a 7-6 victory over St. Louis. Eddie Joost's ninth-inning single scoring Ray Murray was the clincher for Bobby Shantz, who turned in brilliant three-hit relief pitching after replacing Joe Coleman in the first.

It was too cold for the Red Sox to play the White Sox at Fenway but Boston warmed up with a deal for a catcher. Les Moss of the Browns moved to Boston for Catcher Matt Batts and Pitcher Jim Suchecki.

Connie Marrero shook Washington out of a four-game losing streak by beating Detroit, 11-6, for his fifth straight win. Sam Mele led the attack with two triples and two singles.

It's still only three games from the bottom in the National with Brooklyn, the pre-season favorite, on top, and the 1950 champion Phillies in the cellar.

The vaunted Dodger power was missing at Chicago where Frank Hiller spun a seven-hitter, 7-0, while Ransom Jackson and Hank Sauer ripped into Erv Palica for home runs.

Sauer's four RBIs for the day sent him out front in the league with 26, the same number Mickey Mantle, the Yanks rookie flash, has in the American.

Keeping pace with the Cubs, the Pittsburgh Pirates moved within one game of first place by knocking off New York, 12-7. Ralph Kiner had a big day with his sixth homer and a double to drive in five runs. The win went to Murry Dickson and the loss to Montie Kennedy.

Cincinnati edged even with the .500 mark on a 6-5 win over Boston's Warren Spahn. Willard Ramsdell weakened in the eighth when the Braves scored four and Harry Perkowski batted him out.

Connie Ryan of the Reds and Sid Gordon of the Braves each hit three-run homers.

Rookie Joe Pesko of St. Louis pitched his first complete game in the majors to whip the Phillies, 2-1. The Cardinal quickly lost his shutout bid when Andy Semink homered in the ninth.

The work "musket" originally signified the male sparrowhawk and is believed to have been used for a firearm because of a European habit of naming weapons after birds and animals.

Brooklyn (Eastern Park way arena)—Rocky Castellani, 157½, Teasack, N. J., stopped Joe Di Martino, 149½, Bridgeport, Conn., 6.

Stock Races at Starbrick Sunday

With clear weather predicted for the week-end, one of the largest crowds ever to see a racing program at Dick-Ben Speedway is expected Sunday when Promoter Ben White officially opens the 1951 stock car races. First race gets underway at 2:30 with warmups an hour earlier.

Last week, due to a heavy track, an impromptu program was presented for some 1,500 racing enthusiasts who turned out despite the fact that the card was cancelled. Rather than disappoint the fans, a series of time trials and three eight-lap contests were staged.

Showing up well last week were Carl Pentago of Jamestown, Bob Allen and Art Robbins, of Erie, Dick Nelson of Warren and Don Price of Lottsville. They are all entered on Sunday in addition to a score of other stock car drivers.

Gavilan Is 2 to 1 Favorite to Win

New York, May 18—(AP)—Kid Gavilan, the sleek Cuban hawk, is a solid 2 to 1 choice to whip Chicago's Johnny Bratton tonight in a 16-round bout for the welterweight championship vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Bratton already holds a piece of the title, winning N. B. A. recognition by grabbing a split decision over Charlie Fusari at Chicago in March. But New York state awaits the result of this Madison Square Garden battle before giving its blessing.

Advance sales indicate a crowd of some 10,000 and a $50,000 gate, despite the network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) coverage. The bout goes on at 9 p. m. (EST).

The winner must meet New York's Billy Graham within 60 days to get universal recognition. Later the survivor probably will have to fight Britain's claimant, Eddie Thomas.

Conewango Valley Golf Tourney Ends In Six-way Draw

Six Warren area golfers tied for first place in a putting tourney held at the Conewango Valley Country Club yesterday afternoon. The six, all with 13 putts, were Marshall, E. M. Branch, Jr., S. C. Korb, Walter Dremant, Bob Ritchie and Harry Conarro.

In the "most of a kind" bracket of the tournament, George Juline walked off with top honors with seven 6's.

A putting contest also was held following the weekly men's dinner, with Sam Rasmussen, Stan Korb and Jim Moran finishing first, second and third, respectively.

Charles Jones, pro at the Conewango Valley Club, said a "screwball" tournament will be held next Thursday in which anything goes except actual interference with a golfer's swing.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

By The Associated Press

The Erie Sailors climbed to a full three-game lead in the Middle Atlantic baseball league by defeating the New Castle Senators last night, 13-11.

It was Erie Manager Pete Appleton who turned the trick. For the first time this year, he became a playing manager, going in as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning. The score was tied, the bases were loaded and two men were out. Appleton slashed out a three-run double that won the game. Erie's Pete Franczek got three for three, including a three-run homer and batted in five runs.

In other games, Butler wall-popped Youngstown 7-7 and Lockport defeated Niagara Falls 11-9. Butler rallied for 10 runs in the sixth and seventh innings. The Butler star was Mike Coppola with four hits in five trips.

Lockport won its game by scoring four runs in the fourth inning. The counters crossed the plate when Niagara Centerfielder George Saubulsky threw wild with the bases loaded on Joe Ludtka's single.

Tonight's games: Lockport at Youngstown (2), New Castle at Niagara Falls (2), Erie at Butler.

Here's How a Top Grade Golf Club Is Made

AP Newsfeatures

Cincinnati—When millions of America's golf devotees step up to the tee to smack one right down the middle, little do they realize what precision and loving care have gone into the making of the club in their hands.

On a top grade iron club, some 40 separate operations are required. The wood club is even more tedious. (These pictures were taken at the MacGregor Goldsmith Co.)

If necessary, and a production line were set up to do nothing else, a complete set of irons, number two through the number nine, could be made ready for play in one day.

Not so, however, with the woods, which take at least a week. Each wood head turned out at the plant has four distinct sprays of varnish and lacquer, with an overnight of drying between each application.

The plating of an iron requires seven baths, but can be completed within several hours. In this process, the heads, on racks, get the following dunkings: cleaner, rinse, etch, plating, drag out (in which acid removed in plating is reclaimed); rinse, and hot water drier, which finally cleans and dries the plating.

The production of a precious golf club requires the performance of more than 100 workers, each skilled in his particular operation to a point where the finished product emerges to scale.
